ABOUT

Stencil version of Aspid – a display typeface with narrowed lowercase proportions and even more condensed uppercase letters. It features semi-open counters, medium contrast, and angular forms.

The personality of the typeface is made up by the expressive geometric straightness of some elements and unexpected fractures in the outline. These properties create the overall "crunchy" texture of a text block and a special atmosphere – slightly dramatic with a touches of nobility and mysticism.

Aspid works good in both headings and small paragraphs.
